Our Town

Dr. G. W. Dyer, president of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, speaking before a luncheon of the manufacturers in Dallas told the guests some striking truths about modern day tendencies of government. Sounds like good doctrine and it runs like this: "In the processes of social revolution, society often takes the wrong road. When we have gotten on the wrong road as we have done today, men divide into three classes with reference to what is to be done. One class does not want to do anything, just let matters take care of themselves. These are the fool optimists. A second class of men call themselves progressives. Their slogan is 'keep moving ahead and keep looking ahead.' They brand everybody as a reactionary who doesn't fall in and beat the trail with them. People who do this do not distinguish between movement and progress. They are crawfish progressives. The members of the third class, when they find out they are on the wrong road, go back and get on the right road. These may be called reactionaries, but really they are true progressives. There are two types of democracy. The type represented by the constitution makes the people the source of all power, but does not permit the people to run the government directly. This is called 'representative democracy.' The other type which is becoming more or less popular today is called 'direct democracy.' The theory of this type is that the people should run the government first hand. Now, the founders of our government did not believe in direct democracy a bit. Knowing the natural limitations of the people, they did not believe civilization is safe where government is thus directed. Hence this sort of democracy has no place in the constitution. On the other hand, the constitution protects the individual against what its framers believe to be the dangers of direct democracy."

Recently in a state meeting of the executive committee of the medical association of Texas in Dallas, it was decided to abandon the time honored code which forbade doctors from advertising and the association by this change in policy has recognized the feasibility as well as helpfulness of publicity whether by paid advertising or by press comment. This step may be hailed as a new day for medical science in so far as protecting the profession and counteracting the quack is concerned. In recent years fake treatment in many forms has been sold to the people through the medium of advertising. And again, some forms of treatment not recognized by the medical profession, but containing real merit, have made inroads to the people through advertising. The doctors have the confidence of the people and they deserve that confidence in every way, and while the profession needs no defense, it is not critical of this great science to say that it has in the past overlooked altogether the one great medium through which it can safeguard its interests before the people. That medium is advertising.

Saturday morning at ten o'clock the people will hold memorial exercises for the men who died in the late war. Each year the people assemble to pay tribute to the bravery and sacrifice of those who were promoted to lay down their lives for country. Their patriotism and their unselfish example are to all Americans a lineage that is sublime. What they did cannot be measured in terms of adequate appreciation by us but to them we say on memorial day this is our day to reconsecrate and not for all the glories of the world would we exchange the priceless heritage they left us in their soldier death.

The boycott is not only an un-American thing but men who practice it are un-American in their conception of the traditions of this country which guarantees to every man and institution the right of determination and without that restriction imposed by bigots and religious fanatics. The boycott individually may in some instances have its sustaining reason but a collective boycott cannot be

GAUSE ELECTION CONTEST BEFORE HIGH COURT TODAY

Redpath-Horner Chautauqua Opens Here June 3

DEEP TEST WELL IN PORT SULLIVAN COMMUNITY

HEADLINERS TO FEATURE OPENING OF BIG PROGRAM

FIRST TWO DAYS OF PROGRAM IMPORTANT TO PEOPLE OF CAMERON.

Those who stay away from Chautauqua the opening day this year, believing the program to be unimportant, are in for a big disappointment. As a matter of fact some of the biggest features are on the first two days. On this occasion the famous Cathedral Choir, composed of an extraordinary company of singers will give a program of rare beauty. This great organization made a continental tour last year, visiting some of the largest cities of America. At every place its concert was an enthusiastic success. Its second program is largely popular and operatic in character. It is given on the first night, and followed by one of the humorous offerings of the program. This is in the nature of a lecture by Herbert Leon Cope, the greatest humorist, it is said, since Bill Nye. With Burns of the Mountains the second afternoon, and a great farce-comedy, "GIVE AND TAKE," the second night, it must be seen very readily that the first two days are of great importance.

The only sensible way is to buy season tickets of the local committee. The cost of attending is less than half what it would amount to if you purchase single admission tickets. Admissions run all the way from fifty cents to one dollar for each entertainment. Besides, season tickets are transferable in the owner's family, and the Chautauqua Committee has a limited number for sale.

HEARNE HOTEL UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Copes are experienced in the hotel business and their coming to Cameron will be welcomed by the citizens and business men.

COMMERCIAL CLUB IS FOR PRESERVATION OF TEXAS GAME SUPPLY.

Monday night on motion of J. B. White before the Commercial Club the body went on record as favoring the work of preserving the game and fish supply of the state and extended its assistance in every way possible to the Izaak Walton League in its work of education.

Geo. Banzhaf was instructed to look into the matter of procuring of fish supply for tanks, lakes and streams about Cameron.

The club is also interested in securing game refuges in Milam county and may take up this matter in the near future as assistant to the Walton League.

Miss Ruth Kemp of Southwestern University spent the week end at home.

justified for any reason. The association, organization or set of individuals who believe in the principles of the boycott as a weapon to further their own cause are pursuing a policy that is suicide to them only. To press this principle to its logical conclusions would bring about retaliation and then we imagine there would be weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth."

NOTED DRILLERS BLOCK ACREAGE FOR BIG TEST

BLOCK OF 5500 ACRES TO BE DEVELOPED WITH DEEP TEST FOR OIL.

A deep test well located near Port Sullivan to be drilled 3000 or more more feet beginning with 20 inch drill will be put down beginning in about 60 days according to L. R. Lewis of Shreveport, La., who is associated with John L. Anderson also of Shreveport.

A block of 5500 acres has been secured and Milam County Abstract Company has furnished the titles. The location for the well has been made but has not been announced.

Mr. Lewis says that he and associate Mr. Anderson brought in the discovery well at Smackover, Ark., and both have had considerable experience in Texas fields.

He declares the oil situation here is encouraging and that he is practically certain of paying development. The test will be watched with interest here.

GOOD RAINS FALL IN FEW SECTIONS OF CO.

QUARTER INCH FALLS IN CAMERON MONDAY WITH COOL WAVE—CROPS HELPED.

Although in some sections of the county, especially in the black land belt where rain is most needed, the fall on Monday amounted to nothing more than a sprinkle, in other sections of the county, good rains are reported to have fallen.

South of Little River in the Sherr and Rockdale country and around San Gabriel, rains varying from a half to one inch were reported. North of Cameron and as far west as Buckholts no rain fell of any consequence. In Cameron one quarter inch fell slowly. The rain in all sections of the county fell slow. In the river bottoms near Cameron the rainfall was about the same as in Cameron.

Considerable aid is given to small cotton and growing crops of all kinds but unless general rains come in a few days little hopes are held out for a cotton crop. City Buys No. 6

The commodious Yee High auditorium was filled Monday evening and a large number of the city people, friends, relatives and admirers of Robert Smith's music pupils, under his capable direction the pupils acquitted themselves with grace and dignity.

ATTORNEYS FOR BOTH SIDES ARGUE AT AUSTIN

COURT CIVIL APPEALS HEARS SCHOOL ELECTION FIGHT FROM MILAM.

Today in Austin before the court of civil appeals for this district arguments are being heard by attorneys representing both sides of the Gause school trustee election contest.

Following the denial of an injunction sought by F. D. Fowler, W. C. Hatter and H. H. Gaston before district Judge John Watson, an appeal was taken to the court of civil appeals at Austin where a temporary injunction was granted restraining Miss Hazel Thomas of Gause from opening the ballot box in her suit to investigate alleged fraud in the election.

The hearing before the court was set for Thursday May 28. The three seeking injunction are represented by E. A. Camp of Rockdale and W. A. Morrison of Cameron. For Miss Hazel Thomas will appear before the court Henderson, Kidd & Henderson and Chambers, Wallace & Gillis, six attorneys, all of whom are before the court today.

If the court sustains the action of the district court in refusing a temporary injunction the case will be brought back to Cameron for trial. If an injunction is denied the suit will proceed and the ballot box, now in custody of the court, will be opened to determine the results of the election.

It is understood a number of citizens are in Austin today to hear the case argued before the court.

The case grew out of the school trustee election at Gause. Miss Hazel Thomas alleges votes cast for her were not credited to her when the returns were announced. She has affidavits from 139 who say they voted for her.

If the case is not stopped by injunction the ballot will be opened and the votes canvassed to see if there has been fraud in the election.

Following the filing of the contest C. D. Critchfield and D. W. Key, resigned and the board elected Miss Hazel Thomas but the latter refused and seeks to clear up the allegations she has made by investigating the ballot.

The case had been set down for hearing Monday in District court but the application for injunction has delayed the proceedings.

The streets will be cleaned at night or early in the morning when there is no traffic.

The sweeper is built by the Austin Company and was sold by the Hubert Hefley Motor Company, furnishing the sweeper and the tractor.

MASTER FORGERS' TRICKS EXPOSED

The "Perfect Forgery" Always Has a Weak Spot That Leads to Penman's Downfall.

NATIONWIDE DRAGNET OUT

Bankers Working Together to Catch Crooks Who Cause Losses of $150,000,000 With Bad Checks Yearly.

A bogus check scheme that was so original, sound and business-like that it became known in detective circles as "the one perfect forgery," but finally, like all of them, led to its own inventor being trapped, is described by Reuben A. Lewis, Jr., in the American Bankers Association Journal. The article, which says forgeries cost the banks and business concerns at least $150,000,000 a year, deals with the ways of forgers and the relentless warfare being conducted against them by the bankers.

"Crime does not pay," Mr. Lewis says. "Soon the law reaches out and seizes the misguided operator who thinks he can get away with it. For one of the peculiar things about the forger is that, while he may devise a clever scheme that brings a rich return on its initial trial, he continues to work it until caught."

"Fortunately, there appears to be a weak spot in the best laid scheme. And just as soon as this weak spot is uncovered, it is broadcast to all the banks in the land. So the banks, informed as to the method of approach that the forger will make, and the little peculiarities of the job, are on the alert to nab him when he makes his next reappearance."

The King of Forgers

"The 'master forger' is William Hamilton Harkins, probably the most dangerous operator known to the banking world. Several times in the toils of the law, Harkins has managed to escape. The daring 'king' of the forgers made a confession that he had defrauded banks of more than $300,000 during the years of his career."

"His scheme follows a certain set pattern. The key to Harkins' plan is obtaining a blank check from the checkbook of a well known firm. Recently Harkins sauntered into the office of a granite dealer. He ordered a monument and tendered a check for a substantial part of the memorial. He requested the proprietor of the store to permit him to dash off a letter to his folks at home. Seizing a propitious moment, Harkins spotted his checkbook, noted the exact balance, tore out a sheet of checks and disappeared."

"Reproducing the proprietor's signature, Harkins drew up a sizeable check. On the reverse side he inscribed his alias as the payee and then added after 'O. K.' the facsimile of the depositor's signature. This acted as an identification indorsement, so when he presented the check at the bank it was readily cashed."

The Weak Spot

"The weak spot in Harkins' scheme is the identification indorsement. If the teller, before cashing any check bearing this alleged indorsement, telephoned to the depositor and checked up on its issuance, the scheme would have short shrift."

Banks throughout the country have been put on guard against Harkins and his plan and it is believed he cannot operate long without again falling into the net. The scheme that was pronounced unbeatable was devised by a forger known as F. Mayer and centered around the certified check fraud. Mr. Lewis says, continuing:

"F. Mayer would open accounts with four or five banks in a sizeable city. The largest account ran around $5,000. By kitting checks back and forth between the several banks, he would establish his identity with the tellers and become known as a man accustomed to deal in large figures."

"After conducting these preliminaries for a few weeks, Mayer would go to the bank where he had his largest account and ask that a certified check be issued to him for substantially all of the money remaining to his credit. From the genuine check, he would make four or five duplicates."

"In turn, Mayer would visit the other banks, where he had established small accounts. Inasmuch as he had cashed checks for some time, Mayer generally had little trouble in getting the banks to honor the certified checks. If a teller took the precaution of calling the issuing bank on the telephone to inquire if it had made out such a certified check, he would gain confirmation."

The Forger Caught

"But even the 'perfect' forgery scheme cannot be worked with impunity. Mayer succeeded in defrauding Kansas City banks out of $27,000 and made his escape. A few months later he was walking down the streets of Los Angeles when a teller who had honored one of the bogus checks in the middle western city recognized him. Mayer took to his heels with the former teller in hot pursuit, and the criminal lost."

The losses sustained through forgeries by banks may be mainly attributed to the failure of the tellers to observe the rules against cashing checks for strangers or allowing depositors to draw on uncollected items.

"A relentless, sustained hunt is conducted to apprehend the forgers. The new twists, the variations in the methods, the latest ruses used are followed by the detectives. The modes of operation are broadcasted throughout the country," the article declares. "The American Bankers Association alone, through its Protective Division, spends more than $100,000 a year to check depredations against banks."

"Kill The Blues Cope" Is Chautauqua Celebrity

"Laughter is what you do when you're tickled."

Thus a small boy defined it. Burgess Johnson, well known professor of English, declared laughter to be "the shock of mental surprise over unexpected thought contrasts and similarities."

We don't know just how it will be defined by "Kill-the-Blues Cope" when he comes to our chautauqua to lecture on laughter, but we are very sure that our people have a wonderfully worthwhile event waiting them, for he is one of the greatest humorists of the day, and like all humorists, he is a kindly philosopher as well. Just while you are roaring with laughter, Cope slips up on you and wallops you with a thought that is packed full of meat—or maybe a fugitive tear come stealing to your eyes as he touches your soul.

Now and then people get the idea that laughter is a frivolous thing, whereas it really is one of God's greatest gifts to mankind, a something that is of value in all of life's affairs. Go back to the family bible and you will find where Ecclesiastes says, "Eat Thy Bread With Joy." Go ask your family physician about this and he will tell you that laughter and good cheer and faith are powerful agents for physical good and that food eaten while you are angry or wrapped up in a grouch will do you actual harm, for it is a scientific fact that bitter, angry hateful thinking will release toxins that immediately poison the body by arresting its normal functions.

Yes, Cope's message is one of the most important that could come into one's life—in addition to the pure enjoyment of it.

What do you think was the most wonderful song sung by the American soldiers overseas in the world war? The man who is writing this article believes that considering what it accomplished for individuals—and armies—and the world—the most wonderful song sung by our soldiers Over There was

"Pack up your troubles in your old kit bag and smile, smile, smile."

There is a "Religion of Laughter," blessed of God, and it did wonders for those lads, just as it will do wonders for people today in meeting the problems of daily life.

Great and wise men ever loved laughter. The vain, the dishonest and the pretentious, alone have despised it. Thackeray, the great English novelist and essayist, declared a sense of humor and human sympathy to be synonymous. Did you ever realize that the fanatic has no sense of humor, and that the pronounced egotist has lost or is losing his sense of humor and his laughter? Why? Simply because one though dominates all others in the mind of the fanatic or the egotist, and this one compelling, dominating thought will not permit the fanatic or the egotist to yield to the delightful mental surprises that Professor Johnson says make for laughter.

Herbert Leon Cope is one of the best known lecturers in America today. Call the long roll of the largest cities in the country, and you will find that Cope has lectured there, and that the critics of those cities all agree with the statement of the Philadelphia North American. "The audience was kept in continuous laughter, but went home inspired to the best things in life."

Cope has a style peculiarly his own. He has dismantled the old style of lecture and entertainment and in his original way has built up an evening of rollicking intellectual amusement and heartfelt truths.

The Chautauqua opens June 3rd in Cameron.

Took a Friend's Advice

Houston, Texas—"When I was comparatively a young woman I became afflicted with woman's trouble and got so I could hardly walk. I had a delicacy in submitting my case to the doctors. Finally a friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I did so, and before I had taken three bottles I was all right. Later on in life I became afflicted with a kind of poison in my blood; for this I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and gradually my blood became pure. I never again had anything like either of these afflictions."—Mrs. D. M. Wilson, 1521 Fulton St. All dealers.

MASTER FORGERS' TRICKS EXPOSED

The "Perfect Forgery" Always Has a Weak Spot That Leads to Penman's Downfall.

NATIONWIDE DRAGNET OUT

Bankers Working Together to Catch Crooks Who Cause Losses of $150,000,000 With Bad Checks Yearly.

A bogus check scheme that was so original, sound and business-like that it became known in detective circles as "the one perfect forgery," but finally, like all of them, led to its own inventor being trapped, is described by Reuben A. Lewis, Jr., in the American Bankers Association Journal. The article, which says forgeries cost the banks and business concerns at least $150,000,000 a year, deals with the ways of forgers and the relentless warfare being conducted against them by the bankers.

"Crime does not pay," Mr. Lewis says. "Soon the law reaches out and seizes the misguided operator who thinks he can get away with it. For one of the peculiar things about the forger is that, while he may devise a clever scheme that brings a rich return on its initial trial, he continues to work it until caught."

"Fortunately, there appears to be a weak spot in the best laid scheme. And just as soon as this weak spot is uncovered, it is broadcast to all the banks in the land. So the banks, informed as to the method of approach that the forger will make, and the little peculiarities of the job, are on the alert to nab him when he makes his next reappearance."

The King of Forgers
"The 'master forger' is William Hamilton Harkins, probably the most dangerous operator known to the banking world. Several times in the toils of the law, Harkins has managed to escape. The darling 'king' of the forgers made a confession that he had defrauded banks of more than $300,000 during the years of his career."

"His scheme follows a certain set pattern. The key to Harkins' plan is obtaining a blank check from the checkbook of a well known firm. Recently Harkins sauntered into the office of a granite dealer. He ordered a monument and tendered a check for a substantial part of the memorial. He requested the proprietor of the store to permit him to dash off a letter to his folks at home. Seizing a propitious moment, Harkins spotted his checkbook, noted the exact balance tore out a sheet of checks and disappeared."

"Reproducing the proprietor's signature, Harkins drew up a sizeable check. On the reverse side he inscribed his alias as the payee and then added after 'O. K.' the facsimile of the depositor's signature. This acted as an identification indorsement, so when he presented the check at the bank it was readily cashed."

The Weak Spot
"The weak spot in Harkins' scheme is the identification indorsement. If the teller, before cashing any check bearing this alleged indorsement, telephoned to the depositor and checked up on its issuance, the scheme would have short shrift."

Banks throughout the country have been put on guard against Harkins and his plan and it is believed he cannot operate long without again falling into the net. The scheme that was pronounced unbeatable was devised by a forger known as E. Mayer and centered around the certified check fraud, Mr. Lewis says, continuing:

"F. Mayer would open accounts with four or five banks in a sizeable city. The largest account ran around $5,000. By kiting checks back and forth between the several banks, he would establish his identity with the tellers and become known as a man accustomed to deal in large figures."

"After conducting these preliminaries for a few weeks, Mayer would go to the bank where he had his largest account and ask that a certified check be issued to him for substantially all of the money remaining to his credit. From the genuine check, he would make four or five duplicates."

"In turn, Mayer would visit the other banks, where he had established small accounts. Inasmuch as he had cashed checks for some time, Mayer generally had little trouble in getting the banks to honor the certified checks. If a teller took the precaution of calling the issuing bank on the telephone to inquire if it had made out such a certified check, he would gain confirmation."

The Forger Caught
"But even the 'perfect' forgery scheme cannot be worked with impunity. Mayer succeeded in defrauding Kansas City banks out of $27,000 and made his escape. A few months later he was walking down the streets of Los Angeles when a teller who had honored one of the bogus checks in the middle western city recognized him. Mayer took to his heels with the former teller in hot pursuit, and the criminal lost."

The losses sustained through forgeries by banks may be mainly attributed to the failure of the tellers to observe the rules against cashing checks for strangers or allowing depositors to draw on uncollected items. "A relentless, sustained hunt is conducted to apprehend the forgers. The new twists, the variations in the methods, the latest ruses used are followed by the detectives. The modes of operation are broadcasted throughout the country," the article declares. "The American Bankers Association alone, through its Protective Division spends more than $100,000 a year to check depredations against banks."

Uncle Dan Young Is 93 But Attends the Confederate Reunion

The Dallas News of Monday has the following splendid account of Uncle Dan Young's Confederate service. He is a hale and hearty survivor of the Confederacy and has returned from Dallas full of praise for the citizens of Dallas who furnished such unstinted hospitality to the reunion visitors last week.

The Herald hopes that Uncle Dan may be able to attend many coming reunions.

"Old Uncle Dan Young of Cameron will be 93 years old on his next birthday, March 28, 1926, and is as energetic and as mentally alert as many men of much younger years.

Uncle Dan has with him all sorts of letters of praise and testimonials of the faithful service he gave his masters during the Civil War. He went all through the war and cooked for the entire Young family of the Seventh North Carolina Regiment. He was in seven big battles, and went over thirty battlefields; served and helped to bury the father and two sons of the Young family who fought with this regiment during the war, and came out of it without a wound of any kind.

He is an honorary member of Camp Ben McCulloch No. 29, U. C. V., and never misses a reunion if he can help it. His many friends send him money to make the trips.

He was present at the Battle of Chancellorsville, where Stonewall Jackson was wounded, and was present a week or so later at the bedside of General Jackson when he died from the wound."

Under the Capitol Dome

By J. G. Burr, Austin, Texas.

OUT OVER THE STATE

In Waco at the convention of the League of Municipalities. Forty nine cities represented and thirty mayors present. Civic administration was discussed touching all phases of traffic laws, water supply, sanitation, home rule, and city parks as play grounds.

Mayor Goode of Marlin talked of the tourist trade as prompted by good parks for campers. It makes friends for the city and campers go away to tell others of the hospitality. They charge a small campers' fee of 25 cents which serves to keep out less desirable tourists.

Mayor R. C. Johnston of Waxahachie boosted supervised parks as play grounds for children and picknickers in general. A railroad company had twice used the Waxahachie park for picknicks for its employees and hundreds had come from Dallas. He would set 'em up to every one present if any town could show a park better than that of the town of which he was the proud mayor. The site had been donated as a memorial of some public spirited man whose name would be gratefully known to generations for a thousand years to come.

That afternoon the leaguers were given a ride over the city of Waco, and through Cameron Park which is another memorial of great public munificence. At the banquet that night Johnston was called upon for a talk. He got up humbly and admitted that he had seen Cameron, the greatest of parks—greater than that of Waxahachie.

Ex-Governor Neff was called for and talked parks, paying tribute to Cameron who had a monument, he said, that would stand when all tombs crumble to dust. Gov. Neff mentioned that the legislature had failed to formally accept some 50 parks donated to the state during the last year of his administration through the efforts of himself and the park board. Mayor Johnston prepared a resolution calling for the acceptance of the parks.

A recent law enacted limiting municipal home rule was roundly scored as being hurtful to the effective handling of city funds.

Safety councils in four Texas cities reported large reduction of deaths and accidents. San Antonio reporting 50 per cent reduction in one year. Learn to be careful at all times, not merely when danger is apparent, it was urged.

Mosquito control in small towns by part time help or enforcement of sanitary laws by the police department has in many places of the malaria and dengue carrying pest at small cost, it was pointed out by Mr. Steele of the Health Department. A card hung on the wall telling that Waco had lost $85,000 in labor the last year from mosquito borne maladies. Waco is no exception, except that it is not hiding facts common to all cities and which need but to be known to be corrected.

Any city can organize against accidents by writing to the Safety Council at San Antonio for advice or against mosquitoes by calling upon the state health department.

TEACH ME.

God teach me how to pray
To relieve my troubled soul.
Teach me how to open my heart
And let the birds, trees, flowers
Sing gaily into it,
Making it fresh, rosy, ethereal,
Milk-warm with kindness,
Love, humility;
Something fine—something noble.
Teach me, O God, to walk into
The paths of sinners—
Not as one of them—but of one

CALDWELL DEFEATS YOEMEN IN A DOUBLE HEADER.

Quite recently the Yoemen played two successive games with the Caldwell nine and were defeated by a narrow margin both times. However it was not due to bad playing by the Yoemen, it was due to the fact that Caldwell had the stronger team and we will admit the fact.

WHEN SIGNALS ARE SET AGAINST YOU

Danger Signs Given by Bankers—People With Money to Invest Warned Against Ways to Lose It—The Lure of "Easy Money."

If you were an engineer on a railroad you would not intentionally pass safety signals set against you. To the experienced investor there are similar signals for safeguarding his investments. Some of these signs of danger, issued by the Public Service Committee of the State Bank Division, American Bankers Association, in conjunction with the Better Business Bureau, are briefly indicated here.

BIG RETURNS—It is easy to promise an abnormally high rate of dividends, or large market profits, to prospective investors. Heavy risks usually accompany such lures. They are too often the chief talking points of financial charlatans.

PROMINENT NAMES—Promoters know that the names and endorsements of successful men carry weight. They are often used without authorization. The prudent investor will look beyond names and will investigate.

THE "GROUND FLOOR"—An opportunity to "get in on the ground floor" often turns out to be the same sort of opportunity which the proverbial spider extended to the fly.

INSIDE INFORMATION—"Inside tips" are usually expensive pieces of misinformation. When used as "confidential information" to influence the small investor they are generally of spurious character.

THE FICTITIOUS ADVANCE—Professional promoters often arbitrarily advance the prices of the shares they sell as their campaigns gain headway to create buying excitement and induce new buyers to get in before the next rise. Such price advances are artificial, usually employed merely to "speed up" the unloading of shares.

THE TELEPHONE CANVASS—Irresponsible vendors find it easy to work over the telephone to victimize incautious investors. The cautious investor will not enter into securities transactions by telephone unless he personally knows with whom he is dealing.

THE UNSELFISH PROMOTER—The promoter who "gives his services" in organizing a company or as an officer of it and advertises that he does so, will bear watching.

THE IRRESPONSIBLE GUARANTEE—Irresponsible sellers of securities often "guarantee" certain profits, or even that they will buy back shares when the purchaser wants his money. Promises of this nature are made to create confidence and to lull suspicion. They should indicate to the prospective purchaser a special need to investigate.

"REORGANIZATION" AND MERGER—Unsuccessful companies forced into "reorganization" often call upon stockholders for new funds. Response to such appeals often means merely throwing good money after bad. A conspicuously fraudulent device has been the "merger," by which a new company trading upon fresh prospects and promises, takes over the assets of an unsuccessful venture and issues new stock for old, provided the shareholder pays 25 per cent or so in cash.

THE PARTIAL-PAYMENT PLAN—This helpful method of selling securities has been much abused. People who prefer to buy securities out of their weekly or monthly earnings, are sometimes victimized by vendors of stocks which have little or no value.

+ THE BATTLE GROUND OF + + REASON. +

Rockdale, Texas, May 25, 1925.
Editor Cameron Herald:

There is being so much said in regard to the Governor abusing the pardoning power that I am tempted to write a little on the subject.

I am not writing to defend the Governor's policy as I don't believe she needs any defense from me. Now who is it that is so quick to criticize the Governor? If you are a close observer and can read between the lines you can readily see that the crowd that wants to condemn her for showing a little mercy to those poor, unfortunate ones, is the so called one hundred per centers that fought her so hard in the July and August primaries and after she won out in the August primary then these same one hundred per centers went all over the State and told the voters that the primary pledge was not binding and amounted to nothing and begged them to vote for a republican for Governor, and yet, they still claim to be good Democrats.

I know one Preacher that left a protracted meeting he had in progress and drove about thirty miles to plead with the people to support the republican for Governor if this State, against a Democrat.

I know one or two towns in this State where the good ladies went around to the houses and held prayer meetings and got the ladies of the house (where they could) to join them and sign a pledge and that pledge was to support the republican for Governor.

I see in a news dispatch that some four or five men over in Louisiana have drawn jail sentences for some of their actions (and these actions were not acts of mercy) Let me ask if

All honest securities dealers unite in warning the investor to buy on the partial-payment plan only after making sure of the financial responsibility and standing of the firm with which he does business.

THE APPEAL TO PREJUDICE—A chief stock in trade of the unreliable promoter is misinformation which plays upon the prejudices and emotions of prospects. This style of promoter points out supposed "evils" and "special privileges" existing in the world of "high finance." He may urge that his venture is a poor man's proposition, free from the "large underwriting profits which the big fellows get." Usually such sellers endeavor to throw suspicion on others to divert it from themselves.

FALSE SENSE OF SECURITY—"Real estate—the safest security on earth," is the type of slogan under which at times unscrupulous operators endeavor to unload property on persons who want to make an investment, but not a poor speculation. Experienced opinion, supported by impartially-gathered facts, forms the only basis upon which to buy real estate, especially when you cannot see it before you buy.

MINING FALLACIES—Many mining ventures are honest but fail because the promoters are unable to finance the proposition through to a successful conclusion. Many other mining promotions are not good prospects although they may be represented as such. If a small investor wishes to buy mining stocks he can do so by purchasing securities of established mining companies with records of substantial earnings and of dividends regularly paid to stockholders.

OIL RISKS—To almost every one come opportunities to speculate in oil schemes. Very often such offerings are misrepresented. Usually they are sheer speculations, all the risks being taken with the stockholders' money, while the promoters pay themselves handsomely through stock sales, commissions, salaries or "organization expenses." The investor who desires to buy mining or oil securities should get facts and experienced opinion as to issues of established, successful oil companies. Even the legitimate mining or oil business is speculative and depends for profits upon a sound combination of properties, organization, finances and management.

INVENTION DELUSIONS—The general public too often believes that large profits are to be gained through patented processes or devices. Inventions are a fascinating means for separating inexperienced investors from their savings. Even when practical from a marketing and manufacturing standpoint, patents are usually only moderately valuable. The small investor cannot afford to take an "Invention Chance" with his funds.

those good people who have been condemning the actions of Governor Ferguson have tried to inform themselves as to whether those poor fellows that have been pardoned and paroled are worthy of the little acts of mercy that is extended to them by the Governor or not.

Now let me suggest that you should not condemn any one until you first investigate and satisfy yourself that you are in the clear. Don't be so rash as to condemn without some knowledge as to the worthiness of those who have been so fortunate as to receive mercy at the hands of the Governor of this great State.

Let me say that if those who are so ready to condemn these little acts of mercy from the Governor were given the privilege of sitting in the representative hall and have heard the report that the committee of good and noble men brought in who had investigated the prison system, I believe they would have said that the Governor ought to use the pardoning power freely.

Let me state that there is not a man or woman in this state that I have any ill feeling for but I do believe that you who are condemning the Governor's actions are laboring under false ideas or have been misled by some prejudiced mind and I believe that you will agree that you should not pass judgment on any one until you have made a thorough investigation and then base your condemnation on sound judgment and facts concerning the parties condemned.

Be sure to remove the mote from your own eye before you go after the beam in your brothers eye.

Good people be careful. He that is without sin cast the first stone.

"FORTY-FIVE MINUTES FROM BROADWAY."

As a matter of fact, it probably did more to make Cohan famous than any of his other plays.

The success of Cohan productions on the Premier Circuit has been striking. "Broadway Jones" and "It Pays to Advertise" both drew big receipts.

This is the first opportunity we have had to produce a musical comedy or rather, a comedy with music.

The music in no sense is incidental. The play itself is so full of comedy and rich situations that it would be a great success without music.

We will have a splendid aggregation of real Metropolitan players.

About eighteen people are required to produce the play. There is a remarkable singing chorus of young men and young women, including some very attractive, as well as very sweet and wholesome girls.

Briefly, the play has to do with a lost will. Bennett, the leading man, has suddenly been left a tremendous estate by reason of the death of his uncle, the elder Bennett. He has just gone to the home at New Rochelle, (which is forty-five minutes from Broadway.) He is accompanied by Flora, an actress, to whom he is engaged to be married, and Flora's mother, Mrs. Dean who has the faults of the press—humorous mother in law. With him is Kid Burns, the part played by George Cohan, and one abounding in rare comedy. Kid Burns is an ex-pugilist. In the family of the elder Bennett, is Mary, the leading character of the play, who has served as a sort of maid, secretary, and general housekeeper of the elder Bennett. Everyone is surprised that the Elder Bennett died without leaving Mary any of the property, so by law the property goes to young Bennett. Then we get into the perplexing story of mystery, dealing with some very crooked people, including Blake, who has been Bennett's lawyer, and other villains.

Kid Burns falls in love with Mary, and his affection is reciprocated. Mrs.

Dean makes things hot for everybody. She won't eat at the table with Kid Burns, but finally she is persuaded to do so provided Burns gets into a dress suit. He does not possess such articles of clothing, so he is given a suit that belonged to the elder Bennett. Imagine his surprise to find in the pocket of this the missing will. He is torn by conflicting emotions. By the terms of the will he finds that the property goes to Mary, with whom he is in love, and, if he reveals the presence of the will, he knows he will cut his idolized friend and employer out of his share of the estate. Meanwhile, the plot gets pretty thick. Suspicion is fixed on many people and no one knows who is honest and who isn't. Matters culminate in a daring attempt at a robbery and the burglars are caught red-handed by Mary.

It would not be fair to tell how the various characters work themselves of the tremendously humorous although thrilling situations. There is action and life and comedy and indeed there are thrills every moment of the play. The songs sung are beautiful and the kind that you will want to whistle for weeks. "So long Mary." "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway," and other great successes are included.

The production of this musical comedy is a new step heretofore unattempted in chautauqua work.

The Chautauqua opens June 3rd in Cameron.

Some people are so dumb they think:

That an elephant has a key to his trunk.

A hurricane is a walking sick. If they eat a square meal the corners will hurt.

The Prince of Wales is a fish. That Longfellow was funny because he made Minniehaha.

That if a rope was thrown to a drowning lemon

They would be given that lemonade.

COMMENCEMENT SERMON.

Sunday night in the Methodist church auditorium a capacity crowd assembled for the opening exercises of the Yoe Hi School Commencement Season. The graduates, the largest class ever sent out from Yoe High school gathered in the home of Judge Jeff Kemp and under the direction of faculty members marched single file into the Auditorium where their reserved seats were marked by the class colors of purple and gold.

The Juniors filled the choir gallery and presented a splendid array—as they sang the two part chorus, "The Lord is My Shepherd," directed by Mrs. C. S. Peyton.

The ministers of Cameron had part in the services preceding the splendid baccalaureate sermon delivered by the Rt. Rev. Clinton S. Quin of Houston, Bishop of the Diocese of Texas. His sermon was declared by many who heard it to be one of the most pointed and practical to which they had ever listened. His simple direct manner of presenting truth won the undivided attention of his hearers. He held up the character of Abraham, the friend of God, as one to be emulated. He exhorted the Seniors to remember their prayers, their manners and their work drawing this text from the remark of a homely serving woman whose two sons had reached planes of prominence in great business enterprises. When asked by her master how that had happened and how she an humble ignorant mother, could account for their success, replied "well, Master, I taught them their prayers, their manners and to work." These three things combined will bring success into any life said Bishop Quin.

The following is the program:
Processional—Miss Lucile Dickard.
Hymn—"Come Thou Almighty King"—Congregation.
Invocation—Rev. R. S. Marshall.
"The Lord is My Shepherd"—Junior Class.

Violin Solo—Miss Olive Henderson.
Sermon—The Rt. Rev. Clinton S. Quin, Bishop Diocese of Texas.

MRS. MacFADYEN ENTERTAINED

Honoring Mrs. H. R. MacFadyen, wife of the beloved pastor of the Cameron Presbyterian church who leaves for Nashville, Tenn., next week, the Presbyterian Woman's Auxiliary entertained Monday afternoon in the hospitable home of Mrs. Ben P. Atkinson on East Thirteenth street. The parlors were made attractive by the generous use of golden nasturtiums arranged in bowls vases and floor and wall vases, and the handsome dining room was made gay with streamers of golden hue and an artistic arrangement of the favored flower as a centerpiece for the lace spread table. Tulle tied candle holders holding glowing yellow candles graced the board. Officers of the Auxiliary and members of committees anticipated every detail of the hospitality and made the very large number of callers heartily welcome. Orange ice cream with angel cake were daintily served by the young ladies. Mrs. John Edwards for the Auxiliary presented the honor with a set of sterling silver salad forks in appreciation of the service of the honoree to the auxiliary and as token of their high estimation of her Christian character.

Songs by Mrs. W. B. Denson and Miss Jennie Tyson provided the program for the afternoon which was pleasantly spent in social conversation and in extending good wishes to the honoree.

QUINN-HOLLAND.

The following item concerning one of Cameron's most popular citizens was clipped from the Midlothian Argus:

"On Wednesday evening, at eight o'clock, about twenty young maids and matrons were invited to the lovely home of Mrs. Alice Hendrix, with the impression that they were participating in a 'little farewell party for Miss Odle,' as Mrs. Hendrix described it.

Bridge was the popular game of the evening and several games were played. Misses Melba Newton and Frances Bynum, assisting Mrs. Hendrix, came in carrying large roses, with—to the surprise of every guest—a miniature bride and groom in the center. Of course a chorus of 'Oh's!' and 'Ah's!' went up and every one started looking for a prospective bride. Who could it be? Well, the puzzle was soon solved when plates consisting of pink ice cream bride's slippers, cake and pink and white mints were brought in, and in the center was found a tiny letter with a verse on the outside which said, 'Lift up this flap and then you'll see who the lucky one might be.' Well, we did lift up the flap and what did we see, but—

"Miss Lonet Holland and Dr. A. B. Quinn," June 7, 1925.

A lovely picture was presented Miss Holland by the hostess and high score prize was also presented to the bride to be. After all advice was given by the unhappy married guests, we left declaring that it was one of the loveliest and most surprising parties we had ever been to.

SPECIAL SERVICE.

Some years ago, Rev. H. R. MacFadyen, introduced into the program of the church a special service in honor of the Presbyterian young people who are graduating from our schools.

This has come to be an annual affair, and greatly enjoyed by the congregation and others. Sunday morning this service will be held. There will be a sermon by the pastor and talks by some others. There will be a good many young people other than those of the Presbyterian church who will attend and this will be somewhat of a last time getting together of the High School class.

BUY a POPPY!

When Poppies Are a Symbol of Humanity

Poppy Day is consecrated to the undying memory of heroism, suffering, sacrifice and that supreme love of country which prompts a man to lay down his life. Travelers in France, today, stand silently, with bowed heads and profound reverence, where the white crosses of our War dead form a vast and beautiful empire of this Great Adventure.

And, in honoring them and their deeds, the living, as well as those who sleep beneath the same red poppies which have named a Day in History, there will soon blossom, the country over, flaming, emblems, the purchase of which places a badge of honor on your own lapel.

Do not turn away from Poppy Day messengers of the type of Charity, which is actually not charity at all, but an expression of reverent love. In your own kindly, thoughtful way, for a mere pittance, you, too, can be "in the service." And your heart will beat the faster, your pulse throb with infinite pride, as you realize that in the aggregate, the sum collected will prove how America not only remembers, but establishes a practical memorial to her heroes.

If you could see the Poppy fields of France—and, mind you, they bloom with deeper, more brilliant scarlet, because of the blood that drenched their soil, you would read in each grateful petal, all the tragic story over again of the storms that shook civilization to its foundation, and the fathers, sons, brothers, who went across far seas because of an ideal. GRASSHOPPER, ANT AND BLUEBUG EXTERMINATION.

During the past ten days much time has been spent in cleaning up grasshoppers, ants and blue bugs in poultry.

In Maysfield community hoppers have been poisoned on over 300 Acres. In Port Sullivan about 250 acres. In Little Rockie about 250 acres. In all of these communities the regular bran mash poison has been used with good success.

Wheat Bran 25-lbs
Paris Green 1-lb.
Oranges or lemons, 6 fruits.
Cane molasses 2-qts.

Enough water to make moist, this should be broadcasted around the infested field late in the evening.

Don't use Lead Arsenate.
Don't make the mash too wet.
Don't put it out too early, most of feeding is done in the morning.

Don't fail to grind up the fruit well.

In the ant poisoning Cynde Chloride mixture is used, at the rate of one table spoon full to each 3 gallon bucket of water. Pile up the dirt around each hill, and pour full of this solution. It is best to wait until most of the ants are in the hill, which is generally around noontime, this must be followed by two more applications 10 days apart. We have started this work in 6 cut-ant towns and 18 mills of red ants.

Eight farms have been cleaned of Blue Bugs, the method used in this case was to tear down the hen house, destroy all litter, draw the boards of the hen house through a fire and then paint all material to be used in new house with crude oil, (discarded crankcase oil will do.) All the chickens must be dipped in a Sodium Fluoride solution of 1 lb. to 10 gallons of warm water, all birds should have 3 dippings 10 days apart. It is almost impossible to clean up these vermin where the chickens roost in trees. Build a hen house for your chickens before you get blue bugs.

GAUSE MARINE IN WEST INDIES

Quantico, Va., May 20—Starting on a period of duty in the west Indies, Robert W. Rose, formerly of Gause, near Cameron, Texas, is with a detachment of U. S. Marines who left here recently for Cuba. He will be stationed at the Marina Corps encampment at Suantanamo Bay, where he will probably remain for several months.

Guantanamo is the naval base, leased by the American Government for the use of naval vessels in Cuban waters. On the shores of the bay the Marines have established an ideal encampment, where fishing, boating and swimming may be enjoyed every month of the year. Since the Spanish-American War small detachments of Marines have been on duty there.

Robert, who is a son of Frank K. Rose, of Gause, joined the 3rd Corps at Houston last August, and in recent weeks has been stationed at Quantico. When a detachment was formed for service in Cuba, Rose was one of the Marines selected.

Salts Fine for Aching Kidneys

Eating too much meat may clog the Kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have headache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness, and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying a correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Cameron folks recommend Dean's for just such troubles.

I felt tired and nervous and my kidneys were weak and acted too freely. I began using Dean's Pills from Schiller's Drug Store. One box drove the trouble away."

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

LOCALS AND PERSONALS.

Hearne Scouts to receive Scout Medal of Honor.

While in swimming on the Little Brazos at the regular Scout meeting last Monday evening two brave Scouts from H. W. Wilkerson's troop rescued a drowning tenderfoot that had just enlisted with the troop. Young Blackstone who had just become of age and enlisted with the Scouts was so unfortunate as to get in water over his head and after going down the second time William David Morgan age 13 and another Scout whose name I do not have went to his rescue and quickly brought him out of the stream. These boys who acted so calmly and heroic on this occasion will receive the Scout Medal of Honor for their heroic efforts.

No mother need worry about her boy when he is out with the Scouts for they are taught to care for one another under all conditions that might be encountered. First aid for every emergency is known and practiced by all first class Scouts much better than it could be done at home. The scout motto is "Be Prepared" and they are taught in their Scout work to Be Prepared to save life and help others at all times.

ROCKDALE SCOUTS CLEAN UP.

The Rockdale Scouts backed by the Lions Club staged a clean up campaign the past week that resulted in 50 truck loads of cans and trash being collected from the streets of the town. The Lions of Rockdale are a real live bunch of fellows and we can see the effect of their organization on the Scouts regardless of the fact that they are only a few weeks old. All boys need is a little encouragement from the men and they will go their length to do anything that is suggested be it good or bad.

Until the organization of the Lions Club at Rockdale Dr. Swafford had a lone fight in his work with the boys but with them behind him he is able to do three times the good that was done originally. At a meeting with this troop Monday night the Editor was pleased to note the growth in the troop. These boys have the spirit and are going to make somebody hard to catch at the Jamboree.

ROBERTSON COUNTY SCOUT SCHOOL.

The Editor had a very pleasant camp with the boys of Robertson county on the Brazos at the Scout School last Friday afternoon and night and Saturday. Among other valuable lessons the scouts were taught life saving and resuscitation of drowned persons. Before the camp closed Saturday every Scout had the opportunity of rescuing another scout and of being rescued himself and each was brought back to life by the Schafer method of resuscitation. Scoutmasters McNeil and Wilkerson were present on this occasion and helped put over the program with the boys.

SCOUT UNIFORMS.

Considerable trouble has been oncountered in getting uniforms for the Scouts in some places. I have here a suggestion to offer that might prove helpful to your troop. The National office sells a large bottom trouser similar to the cotton Khaki that can be bought at most any store. These trousers are regulation and may be worn by your troop. These cotton khaki pants and a cotton khaki shirt may be bought at most any store in your town for about $2.50 for both. These with the hat will make a uniform for the boys. For Neckchiefs, adopt one color for the troop poncee of the colors desired, have mother hem it and you have a better neckerchief than you can get elsewhere and at a cost of only 35c. Boy Scouts of America monograms may be bought from Boy Scout Headquarters, 200 Fifth Ave., New York, that may be sewed to the shirt.

Say Brother Troop Committeemen, this really your job to see that the Scouts have their uniform. Show your Scoutmaster you are with him and help put this over or put it over yourself. If you know it is hard for the boys to scare up enough money to pay for their uniform help him out with it in some way and thereby do a charitable act.

FLY TRAPS.

Flies are thick in every town. At the present rate of multiplying they will become extremely dangerous to the health of your town in a few weeks, and almost unbearable to the brains of your town, the ball headed men. As scouts we should see to it that the fly and mosquito are kept down so that the health of the town will be good and so that we may not lose the brains of the town by having them move to a cooler climate.

Alright, here is a job for the scouts that is both helpful and profitable. Get a box any size and put screen all around except at the bottom; cut a hole six inches in diameter with a keyhole saw or pocket knife at bottom and insert a piece of screen wire that has been worked to the shape of a funnel in this hole and tack the big part of funnel to edges of hole. Have small hole in the apex so that flies may fly thru but not come out. Raise your box about two inches by having little legs on bottom so Mr. Fly can get to the molasses or banana peeling that has been placed under the funnel to attract him. They will now assemble by the thousands and as each of them fills his little tummy he will fly upward to the traps, crawl thru the little hole and rest in peace forevermore.

Scouts can make enough money to buy their uniforms by making these traps and selling them to the merchants and the homes of the town. Every person in town will buy one if you will not try to profiteer. Make quick sales and small profits. Get busy, show your boys how it is done and they will do a good turn for their community and at the same time make some funds for themselves.

JAMBOREE.

I am very glad to be able to announce that plans for the Scout Jamboree to be held at Cameron on June 15th are shaping up nicely. Practically all troops in the area are working on this contest and all say they are going to win.

At a meeting of the Cameron Lions Club yesterday an invitation was extended to the boys and all people interested in scouting to be present on this occasion as guests of the Lions Club. Arrangement will be made to feed the scouts and the crowd on barbecue, pickles and break. It may be that the good ladies will make us some pies or cakes that will add to the feast. Boost it on every occasion and make your plans to be with the boys on this occasion. If you have lost your schedule of events write me for another copy.

Buick Loops Globe in Record Run

A Buick car, which departed unheralded from New York City last December to be driven from one Buick dealer to another in a trip around the world, is nearing the end of its long journey.

The car, a Standard Six Touring model, is strictly "on its own," being unaccompanied by mechanics or special drivers. When it returns to New York City the machine will have been handled by approximately 350 different drivers.

The last difficult leg of the trip has been completed, a long run over the questionable roads across the continent of Australia. The car is now enroute to New Zealand and Honolulu, from whence it will be shipped to San Francisco and driven across the United States through Detroit and Flint to New York.

The trip around the world was conceived to demonstrate that a Buick will travel to the remote corners of the earth and that on such a journey it is always safeguarded by service facilities.

The globe-encircling car has made its trip without faltering. Driven from dealer to dealer by dealers' representatives only, it has demonstrated Buick's ability to withstand the "man-handling" from hundreds of drivers of various nationalities and degrees of skill.

After coming from the regular assembly line in the factory at Flint, Mich., it was equipped with four spare tires and a shovel. Supplementary tanks on the running boards provide oil, gasoline and water for the long runs over deserts and other uninhabited regions.

After being boxed and sent to New York City it was shipped across the Atlantic to Liverpool, where its land journey started on December 21, 1924. The car was passed from dealer to dealer enroute to London.

It then was shipped from London to Amsterdam. With frequent changes of drivers it passed south through Europe, visiting Brussels and Paris and finally reaching the Mediterranean at Marseilles, France.

On January 20, it was placed on a steamer bound for Port Said, Egypt. From there it was driven south to Cairo. Then the route swung "east of Suez," where the real test began. Through Palestine and the biblical country, the car proceeded to Beirut. On February 5, it left there for Damascus and Bagdad, accompanying one of the desert convoys of the Nairn Transport Company, which incidentally uses Buicks in its desert fleet.

The Syrian desert was crossed without difficulty. The Buick distributor in Beirut, however, gives some idea of the country traversed, in the following letter excerpt:

"The road was terrible in places, being nothing more than a cart track strewn with large boulders. In the run over the Lebanon Mountains the car climbed to a height of more than a mile. After spending the night at Damascus, the 540-mile run to Bagdad was made at an average speed of 35 miles an hour."

The Mesopotamian distributors took the Buick at Bagdad and drove it to Basra on the Persian gulf, from whence it was sent to Bombay, India. From there it was driven over indifferent trail-roads across India to Agra, and finally Calcutta.

It then went to Ceylon, where the Buick distributors drove it for three days before sending it to Perth, on the southwest coast of Australia, where it arrived April 1. The desert waste of southern Australia between Perth and Adelaide was regarded as the most difficult part of the trip. The distance is something more than halfway across the United States. This long stretch of bad going was negotiated successfully, as was the shorter journey from Adelaide to Melbourne, near the southeast end of the continent. The car since was driven to Albany and then to Sydney, from which point it was shipped to New Zealand.

After completion of the globe journey it is planned to preserve the car as an object of historical interest.

COMMERCIAL CLUB IS FOR PRESERVATION OF TEXAS GAME SUPPLY.

Monday night on motion of J. B. White before the Commercial Club the body went on record as favoring the work of preserving the game and fish supply of the state and extended its assistance in every way possible to the Izaak Walton League in its work of education.

Geo. Banzhaf was instructed to look into the matter of procuring of fish supply for tanks, lakes and streams about Cameron.

The club is also interested in securing game refuges in Milam county and may take up this matter in the near future as assistant to the Walton League.

CLUB ASKED TO AID BY ENDORSING NEW LAKE AND CLUB SITE.

The Commercial Club referred to its committee on investigation the proposed lake and club site project on the Tracy farm west of Cameron. The club was asked to endorse the proposition and will in all probability do so after investigation has been made as to the merits of the project.

It is proposed to build a lake on the Tracy farm to impound water covering several acres and to be stocked with fish. Also some irrigation is to be done there. It is proposed to have a golf course for those who care to play golf.

BACK HURT BAD

Lady Had Severe Pains in Back and Got Very Weak.

"I think very highly of Cardui for I have had great benefit from its use," says Mrs. Cora Nicholson, of Ware Shoals, S. C.

"I was in bed quite a while. It looked like my strength would not come back, and I suffered with severe pains in my back whenever I would try to get up. Sometimes I would scream out, my back hurt me so bad.

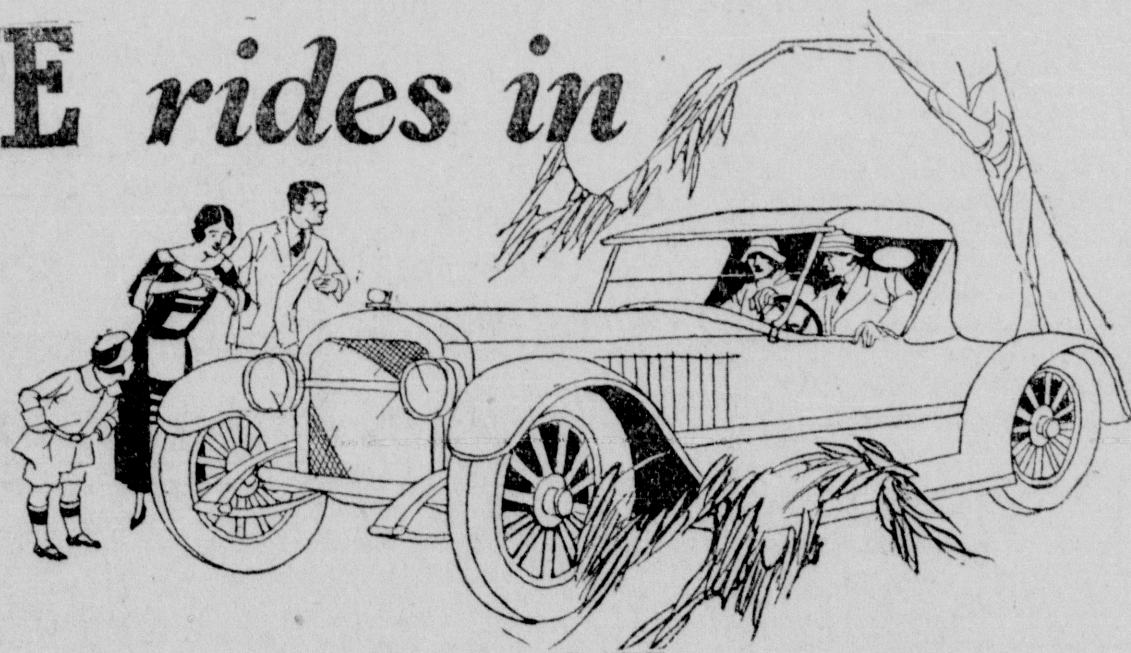

"My husband got me some Cardui and I took two bottles. Very shortly after I began to take it I could notice I felt better. I began to get stronger. My appetite was improving and I could see that I was much better.

"After I had finished the second bottle I was able to be up and do all my own housework, so of course I think Cardui is fine. It is the best tonic for women that I know anything about, and I am glad to recommend it. Not long ago I told a lady friend of mine about it, and it did her as much good as it has done for me."

Autographed Album is Rich Southern Relic

An Autograph Album is one of the prized treasures of Mrs. Meta Thompson McCown, Deputy County Clerk of Milam county. This handsomely embossed album was a gift from one of her mother's girlhood friends and was used in Corona College, Corinth Mississippi in 1961, to record the sentiments of affection which her close friends felt for their college chum, Miss Mollie McCalla.

On the fly leaf appears this inscription:

"To Mollie McCalla, from Cousin Amelia, May 13th, 1881."

The book is bound in tooled and embossed leather and on its face bears the legend:

"Album of Gems."

J. B. Lippincott & Co. Steel engravings appear at intervals. On several pages are written the names of friends on cards traced by the owner. Then there are verses like these:

"To Mollie:
Here is one leaf reserved for me
From all thy sweet memorials free
And here my story might tell
The feelings they must guess so well
But could I thus, within thy mind
One little vacant corner find
Where no impression yet is seen
Where no fond memorial yet has been
Oh! it would by my sweetest care
To write my name forever there.
Your friend,
Mark Wilkinson.

"Friendship may weave a garland
Gold may link a chain
But love alone can form a clasp
Unbroken to remain.
Sallie M."

"Lovely friend Mollie:
Remember thee, yes, while the pulse
Of life beats warm and free
By all I love on earth and heaven
I will remember thee.
But when afar in distant lands
When all shall smile for thee
In pleasures pay and peaceful hours
Wilt thou remember me?
M. E. S."

"To Miss Mollie McCalla:
May life to thee, never cease to be
Replete with joy and pleasure
While friends you love around you move

And every heart a treasure
The sky be bright—full of light
Serene and cloudless ever
Let shadows fling their somber blight

Upon thy pathway never
And when the night of death shall come

As come the shades of evening,
May angels wing their flight down here

And take thee up to Heaven.
Is the wish of your true friend,
Permella H. Hill.
Oak Grove, Miss., May 25, 1881"

These verses are all daintily written and in the most careful chirography and one can envision from the sight of these faultlessly written verses the girls of the days of '61' as their pictures have been presented to us with hair carefully braided or curled and the full skirts and quaint bodices that the belles of those gracious days wore.

Mrs. McCown's mother's album would be prized for its association with her mother's happy girlhood but linked with the keeping there is a story of war and gallantry of the days of '61—to bring up Confederate memories.

When the Yankee troops under Buell and Rosecrans invaded Corinth the girls of Corona College gather their belongings carefully and each was to be sent to friends or her home until more peaceful times came and time for study arrived again. In her hasty departure from the College, Miss Mollie McCalla, lost her treasured album with the names and sentiments so fondly inscribed by her devoted friends and admirers. Time passed. The album was lost for many a day. It was restored to the owner, who had become the wife of a gallant Confederate officer and was living in far away Texas, many years after it was picked up on the Corona College campus by a Union soldier. As years rolled on he resolved to find the fair owner of the captured album and wrote to Corinth to see if he could locate members of the McCalla family. He was referred to Rev. M. C. Hutton, Presbyterian pastor of Georgetown, who had once been pastor of the Corinth church, and there had married one of the charming McCalla sisters. In due time Rev. Mr. Hutton sent the Cameron address of Mrs. J. F. Thompson to him and later the album was returned unharmed to its original owner.

Upon the last leaf in the book this letter is written:

"This album was picked up in the Campus of Corona College, Corinth, Miss., about 4 p. m. Oct. 4, 1862, by a Union Soldier whose name is given below.

It has been in his possession ever since and is now cheerfully returned to its original owner. Its pages are fragrant with declarations of esteem and high regard of youthful friends, but no one shall wish for her and hers a larger measure of peace, joy and happiness here and in the blessed home above than

Yours cordially,

J. B. WOODWORTH.

Mrs. McCown is most pleased to show this treasured album to her friends and tell them of its unique history.

J. G. GILBERT LAID TO REST IN ROGERS.

Rogers, Texas, May 24.—The funeral of J. G. Gilbert, pioneer citizen of central Texas, was held here at North Elm Baptist church this afternoon, attended by approximately 1,500 friends and acquaintances.

Mr. Gilbert died Friday of injuries received when struck by an automobile.

Deceased was born in Alabama in 1859, and came to Texas at an early age, settling in Williamson county. He became a member of the Baptist church when 20 years old; he was converted by Major Penn, a prominent evangelist of that time. At the time of his death Mr. Gilbert's membership was in the Yarrellton Baptist church.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Marcellus Watkins of Belton, assisted by the Rev. C. R. Joyner of Rogers. There were five other ministers in attendance. Interment was in North Elm cemetery. Eight sons and two daughters survive, all of whom were at the bedside at the time of death.

SMOTHERING

Texas Lady Tells How She Got Rid of Her Troubles.

"The first time I took Cardui, I was in an awful bad way," says Mrs. Ora Carlile, R. F. D. 5, Troup, Texas.

"I was afflicted with awful smothering spells. My mother had some Cardui in the house that she was taking, so she immediately began giving it to me. In a few days I got all right."

"Last fall I got run-down in health. I was weak and puny and I began to suffer with . . . I would get so I could hardly walk. Having taken Cardui before, I sent to the store for a bottle of it."

"Almost from the first dose I could feel the improvement. . . I am much better now."

"Cardui has helped me a lot and I am glad to recommend it. I don't feel like the same woman I was last fall."

"My appetite is good now, and I'm sure it's Cardui that's made it pick up, for in the fall I had no relish for food at all; while now I'm hungry for my meals."

that time more than 1,000,000 axle gear assemblies.

His ear has been specially trained to detect noises in the driving gears of the Chevrolet axle.

"Dad" formally known as Joseph N. Cutler, is 60 years old but he has young ideas.

"Retire? Not me. I'm just starting on my second million. Besides I'm getting married in June."

Cutler has been a widower for 18 years. He is a veteran of the western oil fields and was in the Klondike gold rush.

In his "silent test" the gears on the rear end of the drive shaft are clamped into a machine which has two rear wheels, axles and brakes similar to those in the completed car. The forward end of the drive shaft engages an electric motor drive which "Dad" starts with a foot lever. Then he manipulates the brakes so that the gears revolve both forward and backward under all possible driving conditions. If his ear detects any slight irregularity in the purr of the gears, the assembly is rejected.

At adjoining test blocks are other men on the same work whose experience ranges from two to four years. But "Dad" is the dean of the crew.

"It requires one year of training before a man's ear is 'tuned to a point where he can judge the sound of a gear assembly," he said. "I don't hear any other sounds around me. I have learned to ignore them. All I hear is the gear murmur."

"The method is like that of a robin listening for earthworms crawling under the sod. The robin pays no attention to surrounding noise. His interest is centered upon the slight sound of worms crawling under the grass roots. The robin makes his living by hearing those sounds. I make my living by hearing the gear sounds."

The parts comprising the axle are subjected to numerous precision tests before being assembled. An electrical device on the test stand determines the load under which the axle is tested and gives the equal of road conditions. The "silence test" is made just before the gear assembly goes into the car.

Porter Stevens who is working in the office of county engineer, A. F. Mitchell, went to Rockdale to spend Sunday with his mother.

Took a Friend's Advice

Houston, Texas.—"When I was comparatively a young woman I became afflicted with woman's trouble and got so I could hardly walk. I had a delicacy in submitting my case to the doctors. Finally a friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I did so, and before I had taken three bottles I was all right. Later on in life I became afflicted with a kind of poison in my blood; for this I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery', and gradually my blood became pure. I never again had anything like either of these afflictions."—Mrs. D. M. Wilson, 1521 Fulton St. All dealers.

Question: Why do you find better workmanship in Buick motor cars?

Answer: Buick's precision methods are possible because of Buick's great volume. It would be impossible to put such fine workmanship into Buick cars for their price if Buick built but a few thousand cars a year.

GRAHAM BROTHERS REDUCE PRICES.

Notice was received today by Decker Motor Co., local Dodge Bros. Dealer, of a substantial reduction in the prices of Graham Brothers Trucks.

The 1 ton Graham Brothers chassis, which formerly sold at $1175, f. o. b. Detroit, is reduced to $1095 and the 1 1-2 ton chassis, which was $1375, is cut to $1280, f. o. b. Detroit. Other chassis prices are reduced proportionately.

"In view of the recent announcement that Graham Brothers in the first quarter of 1925, built more 1 1-2 ton trucks than any other manufacturer in the world, and were second in the 1 ton and 1 1-2 ton truck field combined," said the dealer, "the reduction is readily explained. It has always been Graham Brothers' policy to pass along to the consumer immediately any savings effected through increased production and other factory economies. Only last September they made a sharp price cut in their 1 ton chassis. In the face of this previous reduction the present additional cut of $80 is almost unbelievable.

"Graham Brothers have advanced astonishingly in the last three years. After hearing the comments of the Graham Brothers Truck owners we have sold, I can understand why. There is no limit to their enthusiasm and admiration. The truck is exceedingly attractive in the first place, and in addition is exceptionally rugged and powerful. There seems to be no road, no rauling condition, that it can not master. However, the initial cost is extremely low and it serves the owner faithfully over a much longer period than one usually expects a truck to function.

"Graham Brothers also have another important advantage which had a tremendous influence on their quick ascendancy to leadership. This is the fact that they market their product through Dodge Brothers Dealers all over the world. They are thus provided with an organization much larger and more capable than the average truck manufacturer can hope to establish. All Dodge Brothers Dealers also have highly competent and well stocked service departments—and service is of vital importance to truck owners.

"These facts have found recognition among buyers of commercial transportation everywhere. They are responsible for Graham Brothers present large production and for the substantial cut in prices."

A VISIT THRU THE LARGEST BUSINESS TRAINING SCHOOL IN THE UNITED STATES.

It is indeed an interesting sight to visit the Tyler Commercial College, at Tyler, Texas, and see the work of its students.

As you enter their halls, you behold hundreds of young men and women intensely interested in their accounting work. Some have just entered and are, of course, being given the simple rudiments of their work by painstaking and competent instructors. Others, being further advanced, are busily engaged in various transactions with the different miniature business houses, where wholesale and retail merchandising is done, where Real Estate is bought and sold, where goods are being shipped. All kinds of bank transactions are made. To make it more interesting and practical, there are Telegraphy stations in all parts of the building where students may send messages, ordering goods, making inquiry of goods shipped, transferring money by telegraph. All these stations are in charge of the advanced students of their General Railway and General Western Union Departments. This gives both the business course students and the telegraphy students a wonderful opportunity to make their work mutually profitable by adding this practical touch to it.

Then there are the more advanced Accounting students, who have about completed their course, intent in the desire to thoroughly master their courses. One can almost create a disturbance in this department and they will never lift their eyes from the studies—so concentrated are they in the work.

On the third floor of the large and commodious building, a still more interesting sight greets you. Over three hundred typewriters of different makes are being used to the full capacity all through the day. Here, the Touch Method is taught. Just to the right is another room where Typewriting is taught by music.

Next, is the Shorthand Department where hundreds are taking dictation from their instructors. It is said that the Byrne Simplified System is the easiest system to learn in use today. They control the copyright of this famous system.

The Literary Department is in charge of competent instructors. Each student is given a review in their literary subjects.

The Cotton Cladding Department is a revelation to anyone. More than a hundred young men and women are as busy as bees, pulling, sampling and stapling actual cotton samples—learning to distinguish the different grades, staples, colors and fibre. The instructors are as busy as the students. They also have the Government standards for ready reference.

The Telegraphy Department of this great school is a veritable Railway Telegraphy Dispatches' office. There are messages flying in all directions, giving train orders, sending and receiving commercial telegrams, making out Railway and Western Union reports—doing everything that is done in Railway or Western Union offices. The Cotton Belt Railway Company has a Telegraphy line going through this department. Students receive real messages. The Western Union Company advises their students through the manager at Tyler.

The large auditorium, with a seating capacity of fifteen hundred, is used for their morning exercise. Students hear many valuable talks of interest by professional and business men.

More than thirty courses and combination of courses are given. Their faculty consists of more than thirty competent teachers. It is well worth the time of anyone and an opportunity never to be regretted to visit this great institution.

A large interesting book describing their work will be mailed to you for the asking. Just fill out the coupon below and they will send you the free book ACHIEVING SUCCESS IN BUSINESS.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY ON THE SOUND OF WORDS

"Aunt Emmy," said Helen, handing her a letter, "I want you to tell me what you think of this as an investment for that money I have in the bank." Aunt Emmy adjusted her spectacles and read the letter carefully.

"I see," she remarked, "that you are offered debenture bonds in the Blank Manufacturing Corporation."

"Yes!" cried Helen, interrupting her. "That's what makes me think so well of it. A debenture bond must be so safe!"

"Why do you say that?" inquired Aunt Emmy. "What, exactly, is a debenture bond?"

Helen hesitated while Aunt Emmy looked at her with a twinkle in her eyes. Then she stammered something about security.

"Now, child," admonished Aunt Emmy, "don't get flustered. It's very simple. When you buy a bond, whatever it is called, you loan your money to the company putting out the bonds. The word debenture comes from the Latin word 'debere' which means, as you should know if you remember your schooling, 'I owe.' Now, then, if you lend someone money, you would expect security unless the character of the borrower was so high that you would feel safe merely in holding his I. O. U. In the case of a debenture bond you are loaning money on a company's I. O. U. The company offering you debenture bonds does not pledge or mortgage any property to secure the bonds.

"If the company is in good standing, has a high credit rating and is making money, a debenture bond is a good investment. If the company is weak a debenture bond is a risky thing to buy. It all depends on the soundness of the company and not on the sound of the word 'debenture.' As for the company described in this letter, I don't know anything about it, do you?"

"No," admitted Helen reluctantly. "I do not know a thing. After what you have told me I wish I did. How do you suppose I can find out who and what they are?"

"There is nothing easier than that," rejoined her aunt. "All you have to do is to go down to the bank and ask them to give you a report on the Blank Manufacturing Corporation. They will be glad to look into this for you and will give you some really good advice if you want to invest your money in something safe. Never hesitate about talking to your banker about your financial affairs. He is willing to help you at any time."

Eaton County, Michigan, bankers sponsored an enthusiastic dairy-alfalfa meeting at Charlotte. As a direct result of the last campaign, 2,000 acres of alfalfa have been added. A county-wide bovine tuberculosis eradication campaign is being conducted with every assurance that the county will be on the accredited list this fall. Three cow testing associations have been organized.

Richland County Bankers Association, North Dakota, is one of the county associations which has organized to carry out the work of the boys' and girls' clubs and the "alfalfa on every farm" project. This program was adopted at a State banker-farmer meeting at Fargo in February.

Better Kitchen Contest Winner Makes Report

The women of Milam county will be pleased to read the report of the winner in the recent "Better Kitchen" contest which was conducted under the leadership of Mrs. Etta Ringgold, County Home Demonstrator. The report as given by Mrs. S. W. Taylor of Milano, Texas, who won the prize will doubtless inspire other housewives to attempt needed changes in their workshops.

In the wonderful improvements made by Mrs. Taylor in her unceiled shed room kitchen the work done was accomplished at very small cost by her own labor with the assistance of her splendid young son after school hours. What Mrs. Taylor did is told in the following recital:

How I Improved My Kitchen.

Having reached the point, where the old kitchen just would not do, and being encouraged by our County Demonstrator, I put on my thinking cap and with the prize money in view to defray part of the expenses and with my determination I set about to change the old mouse ridden, unsanitary room into an inviting sanitary work-shop.

When our County Agent and her judges made their first trip of inspection, they almost threw up their hands at my audacious undertaking. They rate me—my kitchen—47.

Their first inventory read as follows:

No wall covering.
No floor covering.
Old style water shelf and basin.
Greasy slop bucket.
A very inconvenient arrangement of furniture.

Poor lights and ventilation.

The reformation began with the ceiling, for which I used ship-lap, treated with two coats of flat tone cream colored joint. Next came the built-in cupboards and sink, which I fitted in one end of the room. They took up the entire end of the room. The taller cupboard, for dishes and groceries, was made by fitting an old wardrobe with shelves and by supplying two sets of doors instead of the old full length doors. The smaller set of doors was made of 12x16 window panes fitted in frames made of flooring ripped. The lower and larger set was made of Beaver board in similar frames. The old wardrobe drawer was supplied with spool knobs and is used as a receptacle for potatoes. This cupboard occupies three feet of the nine feet across the room. The remaining six feet I filled with a shelved closet thirty-four inches high and eighteen inches deep. This closet is used for pots and pans. I put a 16x12 sink in top of this closet. The remainder of the top is covered with sheet zinc. Eighteen inches of the top next to sink is fitted with hinges and forms a cover for a large garbage can, which by the way I made by burning the paint off from a five gallon iron paint bucket. This bucket is one of handiest articles in the entire kitchen. It is so conveniently near the sink, that by raising the cover it is ready to receive potato peelings or similar refuse from other vegetables as well as empty tin cans. It is large enough to hold a large quantity of dry garbage. When the top is down the garbage is out of sight and shielded from the attraction of flies. In the extreme right corner above the low closet, I placed a raisin box, enameled in white, which holds tooth brushes, paste, shaving articles and first aid remedies. The door of this medicine cabinet is an old mirror. On the cabinet we have the kitchen clock. In the wall above the sink is a half sash window, hinged at the top and secured by a screen door hood to the ceiling, which is only seven feet high. The top space of the closet not included in the sink and garbage cover, is fitted with an old rub-board, enameled white and used as a drain board.

Two half sash windows are fitted in the north wall between which stands a Hoosier Cabinet. This cabinet is twelve years old but graces the room beautifully with its shining inside coat of white enamel and outside coat of light oak lacquer.

The large wood range as well as the fireless cooker were given a coat of stove enamel and are as proud as the cabinet of their appearance.

The walls of the room are covered with a pleasing shade of blue builders' paper, with narrow strips of wood over the seams. The strips are stained with light oak lacquer.

A closet reaching to the ceiling sixteen inches deep and sixteen inches wide was placed in the northeast corner near the stove, which is on the east side of the room. This closet holds the lamps the broom, cleaning brushes and all laundry necessities. A gallon can of kerosene sits in the bottom of the closet.

Convenient to the stove on the south wall is a hinged table, which can be easily put down when needed. This table is also used for an ironing board. (On this wall by the side of the stove is rack for holding spoons, egg beaters and other small utensils handy for use.)

A handy dish towel holder was made of heavy wire bent to fit over the back of the range hides them as well as the dish pans from view.

A serving table was made from a large wooden candy box and lid. It is fitted with rollers and makes a very convenient table to transfer victuals and dishes to and from the dining room.

A full set of everwear aluminum utensils graces this kitchen. The most convenient of these utensils is a combination fruit and jelly drip, which is equipped with a wooden petzel, that saves the hands many an ugly stain.

All wood work of the room was given two coats of rich cream colored enamel, which blends beautifully with the light brown floor and blue walls. A small 6x6 piece of linoleum covers the most used part of the floor and the remainder is stained.

The sink is supplied from a barrel elevated on the outside of the kitchen just above the sink and connected with it by hose and faucet.

I am very proud of my new kitchen, which I fixed almost by myself at the total cost of $22.30. My only help being what my son could do.

I find that I have saved an hour a day out of the kitchen since the new arrangement and conveniences.

(Signed) MRS. S. W. TAYLOR.

STOMACH ILLS

Mississippian Was Weak,
Couldn't Eat Enough.

"I had a bad case of stomach trouble," says Mr. N. A. Smith, of Shaw, Miss. "I couldn't eat enough and was very weak. Everything I ate hurt me, formed gas, and I spit up my food."

"I would feel stupid or staggering. I didn't feel like doing any work. I knew what Black-Draught had done... and I began taking small doses. I certainly got relief. It did me lots of good."

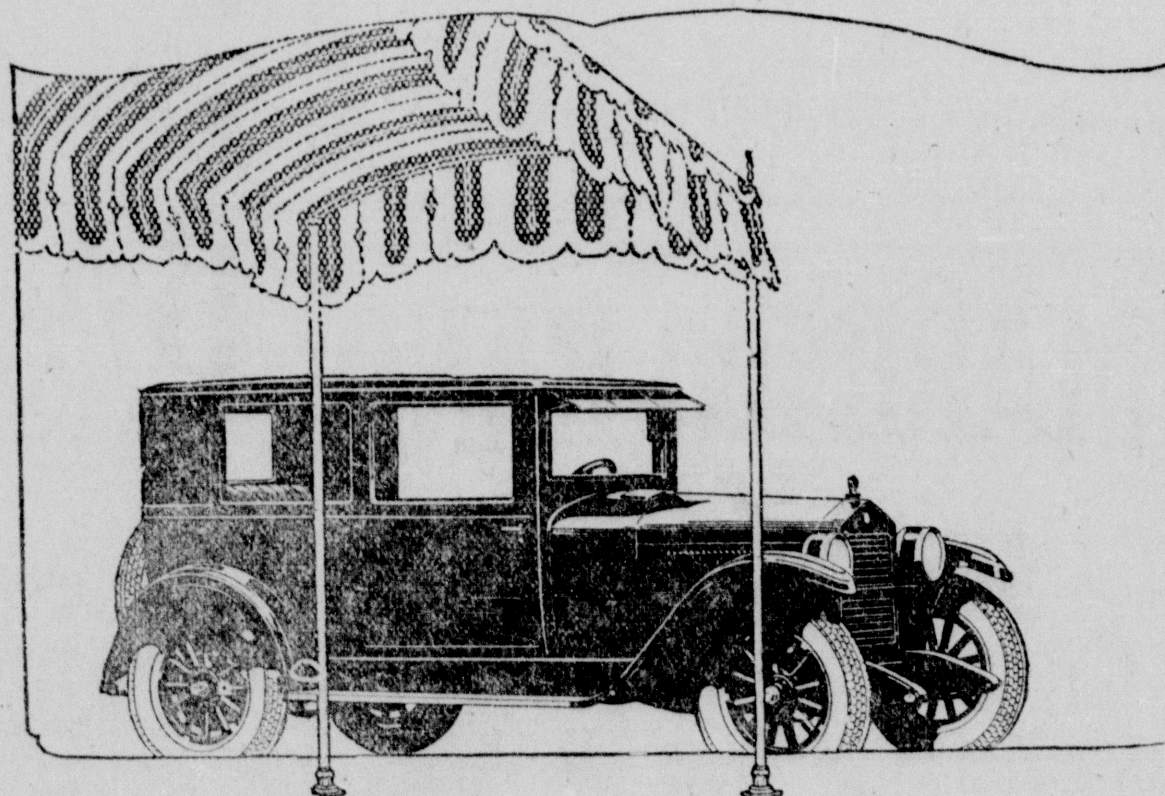

"When I go to town, I look first to see how near out of Black-Draught we are, and then get more. We keep our home remedies and the main one is Black-Draught."

In hundreds of thousands of homes, housekeepers keep Black-Draught as a remedy to relieve indigestion, biliousness, constipation.

Containing no harmful or other mineral drugs, Black-Draught is absolutely safe to take for all members of the family.

You should keep Black-Draught always on hand, for use when needed.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.
